away from the dainty appointments of a luncheon table, the individual serving of Ices and fruit should present a picture in itself. One may carry out some color scheme, using a flower or natural or candled Cherry Roll.-Use small baking powder cans for packing. Add a poonful of cherry water ice and pistachio ice cream in alternate spoonfuls in the cans. Chopped cherries are used in the cherry ice. Serve cut in slices and garnish with fresh cherries and follage.

Strawberry Delight.-Serve strawberry ice cream on well-washed and dried strawberry leaves and garnish with a spray of the wild berries ripe and green. If served in sherbet cups the leaves may serve as a dolly.

Blossom Mousse,-Make an angel cake basket, frosted on the outside with boiled frosting and decorated in lattice strips with angelica, the handle also of angelica. Fill with raspberry mousse and garnish with candy rose buds or fresh raspberries. A few are used as decoration for the top of the cake. The cake is baked in a circular pan and then cut out to form a basket, Poached Peach,-Lay a canned peach on a round of sponge cake and surround with a meringue flavored with orange and delicately browned. Garnish with custard sauce and pecans or slices of fruit.

Watermelon Cup. - Cut with a French potato cutter enough balls to fill sherbet glasses from the pink flesh of the watermelon. Marinate them in a sirup which is flavored with chopped, crystallized ginger and fresh pineapple, with a few large seeded raisins. Serve in glasses with pineapple sherbet; garnish with strips of ginger and large raisins.

Canteloupe Cones,-Scoop out the cones with an ice cream dipper and arrange them on a platter with vanilla ice cream and garnish with nasturtium leaves and flowers.

LEGAL NOTICE Hierarchy Would Revive, Writer Asserts.

The danger, when it comes to selfgovernment for India, and every Anglo-Indian recognizes it, is that we may put back into power the Brahmanical hierarchy which, by all the wiles of priesteraft, by organizing aboriginal worship and blood sacrifices, by astrology and "miracles," has held the lowlier races of India enslaved, body and soul, these three thousand years. Even the English-speaking masters of art in Calcutta university, after their graduation, go back to temples recking with the blood of bulls and W. W. Robinson. who resides at Ballos. Canal Zone, Truck Co. No. 19, will ake notice that his wife. Cosey Robinson, on May 22, 1919, filed her petition or divorce from him in the Court of Common Pleas of Mahoning County, Ohio, in the grounds of wilful absence for three centra and gross neglect of duty. Said asse will be for hearing on and after six weeks from the first publication of this notice which is July 11, 1919.

ANOTHER OF WAR'S RESULTS

Direct Connection Traced Between Great Conflict and the Annoying Scarcity of Laundresses.

This is from Alexandria, our neigh boring city down the Potomac.

Housekeepers there are having quite time getting "help," especially some one to do the family wash. The neessity for clean clothes is one which devolves upon civilized beings. Wars may come and wars may go, but the washtub and washboard go on forever. But it has been hard to get a laundress in Alexandria. War-time conditions have enabled many who earned their living at the tub to turn to less arduous pursuits, with the result that there is a scarcity of "wash ladies." The condition is one paralleled in many other cities. "Aunt Lucy," said one Alexandrian woman, addressing a colored woman whom she had known for many years, "don't you know some one who can do my washing?"

"No, ma'am I don't know no one," she said. The woman made a last attempt.

"Won't you do it for me, Aunt Lucy?" she asked, with a winning "'Deed, chile," said Aunt Lucy, don't have to do no washing no more."

"Why?" asked the woman. "Well, honey, hit is jes like this," explained Aunt Lucy with a nice distinction: "De Civil war made us free. And dis here worl' war has made us independent."-Washington Star.

Service with the American all forces in France adds weight to the opinion of Donald B. MacMillan, Arc tic explorer and leader of the Crocker land expedition, that the airplane is not adapted for a dash to the pole, and that the cost of such a trip by dirigible would be probblitive. In his own future explorations, Mr. MacMillan says, he expects to depend on the "ever-faithful dogs," for conveyance. The airplane is, in his judgment, impracticable for several reasons, one of which is, he says, sufficient to discount the idea of successful Arctic exploration by hardy airmen. The frozen north offers no smooth fields of ice on which the explorer could make a landing. A dirigible might start from a properly coulpped hangar in Labrador and hope to return, but the total cost of the expedition would

BEST AGE FOR WEANING PIGS

Good Plan to Let Porkers Nurse Until Twelve or Fourteen Weeks of Age-Keep Them Growing.

(Prepared by the United States Depart-ment of Agriculture.) Too many farmers follow the practice of weaning pigs when too young, many being weaned at six and seven weeks of age. A good brood sow properly fed has a good flow of milk when the pigs are of this age. There is no better feed for growing pigs than their mother's milk, consequently it should be used to the greatest extent possible. When the pigs are of suckling age the sow should be on full feed. Unless there is some extraordinary reason for earlier weaning the pigs should not be weaned under the age of ten weeks, and it is better to let them nurse until they are twelve or fourteen weeks old. Often serious results follow weaning at too early an age. An entire change of feed following weaning may create serious trouble. If, however, pigs have access to corn, shorts, middlings or tankage, or fish meal in a self-feeder placed in the open where they can eat at pleasure without being disturbed by other hogs, they can be weaned at the age of twelve or fourteen weeks, with very little change in their feed, by allowing them to continue on the self-for market. The best results will not be obtained unless pigs have access all the time possible to good forage crops, alfalfa and red clover preferred. If these feeds cannot be procured rye oats, barley, cowpeas, rape or any other grain or grasses that will proce good forage in the locality should be sown. The pigs should be watched closely to see that they are on their feed. If they are not the feed should be changed, replacing corn with bar ley and using skim milk or buttermilk if possible. The pigs should be kept free from lice by the use of crude of good black oil. They must have access at all times to good, pure water. Shade must be provided during the hot summer months. Natural shade is always best, but where this is not obtainable temporary shade may be provided by setting posts and nailing boards on poles about three and one-half or four the ground and covering the ground the ground and covering the ground t feet from the ground and covering phones. with straw or grass.

SELECT PIGS FOR BREEDING

Animals Should Not Be Pushed, but Kept Growing Nicely to Develop Bone and Muscle.

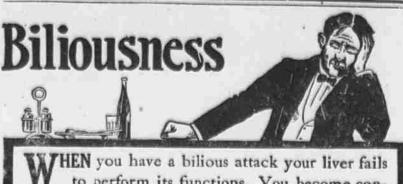

Pigs selected for breeding purpose should be kept growing nicely, but they must not be pushed, for the whole object of their feeding is to make them stretch out and develop bone and muscle in place of fat. They should be continued on a growing ration. A little skim milk and shorts make a good ration. A small amount of phone 1 on 41. ground oats and cracked corn will help develop and insure normal growth. But corn should be used sparingly as it is too fattening for pigs. Remember that these pigs should also have an abundance of green feeds.
